BIOGRAPHY

Yassin Hall, CEO of B.O.S.S. Class LLC, author, and influencer has been successfully selling on Amazon for thirteen years and currently operates four six-figure stores as well as two other successful business ventures. Additionally, she has a growing class of students, having risen to 1200+ (and counting) how to build a profitable business online that creates unlimited freedom that allows them to relax and enjoy many diverse experiences.

Born and raised on St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands, Yassin resides with her beautiful teenage daughter Yamisha who is successfully living with autism in Atlanta, Georgia.

From the perspective of lived experiences and as an Ending the Silence presenter with NAMI and Georgia's Department of Education, Yassin trains teachers and support staff what to look out for in their students and how they can help.

Yassin advocated fearlessly for change in the Virgin Islands, which resulted in the passage of Legislative Bill No. 31-0134 and 31-0279 that at least begins to train all public-school counselors in grief and stress counseling, and increased funding for mental health, making it a priority, and providing needed services to affected citizens.

Yassin draws her passion, persistence, and power from the traumatic life that she lived and survived due to her own mother's undiagnosed and untreated mental health issues.

In her multi Award Winning book Journey Untold ~ Twisted Love, My Mother's Struggle with Mental Illness, she shares how difficult it was to live with a mother who was undiagnosed with depression for twelve years, heard an assortment of voices, was a germ-phobic schizophrenic and bathed in rubbing alcohol. By unveiling her childhood tragedies of almost losing her life on at least four different occasions by the hands of her own mother, she wants to make a difference helping others to escape the chaos, confusion, fear, and miseducation associated with mental health challenges. Journey Untold has been nominated in the TopShelf Book Awards 2020 in the "Young Adult - Non-Fiction", "Young Adult - Social Issues", "Non-Fiction - Biography", "Non-Fiction - Inspirational", "Non-Fiction - Memoir", "Non-Fiction - Motivational", "Non-Fiction - Self-Help", "Non-Fiction - Social Issues", and "Non-Fiction - Women's" categories.

Four years after publishing Journey Untold, Yassin pens a powerful autobiographical memoir that delivers deeply emotional accounts of her journey through a bitter divorce, and her determination to survive a life of emotional and domestic abuse, and toxic relationships that eventually left her homeless, hopeless and helpless. Yassin shares how she refused to give in to other people's opinions, give up on herself and children or give out when life seemed too difficult to manage. Beyond the Love Curse shows readers that once you break down barriers and take the proper steps to repair brokenness, you can move beyond anything that has held you emotionally or physically in bondage and own your God-given power to be healthy, healed,
